

The Bloomfield Citizen.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 30, 1886.

Where We Stand.

A staunch Republican and esteemed reader finds fault with us because, as he says, we are "catering" to the Prohibitionists by our endorsement of the temperance anti-free rum platform of the Bloomfield Republicans. In the first place, we cater to no one, as our enemies frequently testify. We do, however, constantly endeavor to place ourselves in line with the soundest opinion of the community. That opinion at present is, that the advocates of Prohibition and free rum are not to be distinguished, regard being had to results. Their motives and doubts are different. So were the motives of the southern rebels. But different motives combined to produce a single result—the destruction of the Union. It is the same now. Prohibition and the liquor interest combine to establish the rule of ruin.

It is unfortunate that we, the temperance party, have this double fight on our hands, but so it is and we must accept the situation as we find it. We regard the Prohibitionist as a deadly enemy of temperance and good government. We wish to see him outside our camp, not in it. He has made himself our enemy and we intend to treat him as such.

The Republican party has begun active war against the rum evil. The great temperance element will come to its support with overwhelming power. Let the allied forces of rum and Prohibition look to themselves.

The Prohibitionists have in times past received many temperance votes because a reproof to the Republican party was thought necessary. An evil existed in the land and no effort was being put forth to remedy it. The somewhat vigorous hint has been heeded and the work begun. Let the better element of the party be strengthened in the position it has taken, and encouraged to go on by an unmistakable endorsement at the polls.

The Issues.

Three tickets are in the field. What will a vote for one or the other of these three signify?

A vote for the Democratic ticket signifies an endorsement of the policy of the Democratic leaders in State politics. A policy which means the continuation of that spoils system at Trenton which has become so notorious under Abbot that the rumor that Abbot himself is to be appointed Chancellor creates no surprise. The judiciary is the only thing which Abbot has not prostituted to partisan uses and now even that seems in danger. Now is the time for those who believe that "public office is a public trust" to do something besides talk. Let the audacious and pernicious practices of Leon Abbot, Miles Ross & Co. be rebuked lest the contagion spread.

Democratic success means also unrestricted licensing of saloons. This needs no argument; it is universally admitted. It means also the election of a Democratic United States Senator and Representative, thus weakening the barrier against free trade, soft money and pan electricity.

A vote for the Prohibition ticket is just one half a vote for the Democratic. All who thus vote give aid and comfort to every gin mill keeper in the State.

The effect, not the motive of an act is what determines whether it be for good or evil. The possession of brains weighs one with the obligation to use them.

Success of the Republican ticket means the endorsement of the temperance sentiment expressed in the local and State platforms, the fixing of the present attitude against the overshadowing influence of the liquor interest, the purifying of the State civil service, the election of Republican Congressmen and Senator, a protest against shot guns and tissue paper ballots as political agencies, and the protection of Americans against the cheap labor of foreign countries and that of the ill-paid, ill-fed black serf of the South.

The Gas Service.

The Montclair Gas and Water Company have in contemplation the erection of a new gasometer at their works. This is rendered necessary by the increased amount of gas supplied to the townships of Montclair and Bloomfield, with that needed for private consumption. It is to be hoped that this increase in the plant will insure a more steady and satisfactory light.

The signing of the township contract for another year should not remove the question of cheap gas from the consideration of the people. While it would not perhaps be wise or just to force low prices at once, there should be continual progress in that direction; otherwise the growth of the township may be interfered with materially.

Methods of securing a cheap gas supply for consumers might well occupy the attention of the Village Improvement Association the coming winter. Certainly the present company is not meeting the needs of the town. Large factories, halls, stores, and residences are lighted with kerosene oil, or naphtha gas because little or no concession will be made from the ordinary prices charged consumers.

This business, which is large, together with what the township might give, would perhaps compensate a new company for paralleling the present lines. At any rate it is worth consideration.

The delay in placing water-mains in Montgomery street has given rise to some complaint upon the part of residents in that vicinity. Early in the Spring the township Committee passed a resolution requesting the Water Company to set two hydrants upon this street beyond the canal. Two reasons are assigned for the delay. It has been difficult to procure pipe as fast as needed, and the Company are awaiting the termination of a suit against them by the Lehigh Valley R. Co., lessees of the Morris Canal, for building a bridge to convey their main on Belleville avenue. The Railroad Company required pledges, made restrictions and charges which were considered unfair. The Water Company built their bridge in their own way without any agreement. Hence the litigation. It is natural that the Orange Water Company should desire to know the decision of the courts so as to avoid further complications. When the case has been decided they are ready to go on promptly on with the work.

Montclair.

A fire broke out early Saturday afternoon between the weather boards of H. H. Olmstead's grocery store. The department was called out and the fire extinguished with a loss of about $50.
